

Kum. Avanthika Srinivasan is an Indian Carnatic vocalist with over 25 years of training and performance experience. She began learning music at the age of four under Sri M.R. Lenin in Singapore and later continued her training with Smt. Rajeswari Satish in New Jersey and Sri C.R. Vaidyanathan in Chennai.

A graduate of Princeton University and the American Conservatory Theater (ACT), Avanthika has performed in India,

Singapore, and the United States, including at the Cleveland Thyagaraja Aradhana and during the Chennai Margazhi season. She is also the recipient of the Smt. M.S. Subbulakshmi Award conferred by CMANA.

She made her debut as a Bharatanatyam vocalist under Smt. Rhadha Ramanathan of the Vazhuvoor bani and regularly provides vocal accompaniment for dance performances. Avanthika also spends several months in the year Thiruvavur studying the Nalvar Thevarams and the compositions of Sri Muthuswamy Dikshitar, deepening her understanding of the temple's rich musical heritage. She currently learns under B. Balasubraaniyan at Wesleyan University, a senior disciple of prominent flautist Viswa Sir, of the Brinda Mukta Bani.
